Half-Back Play.

G. P. WILSON.

To discuss fully and exhaustively the somewhat chary of rushing forward, for subject of half-back play would far exceed the limits of this article in which an attempt has been made to indicate along what lines and towards what objects player in this position should direct his do in all or any special circumstances.

not, I trust, be considered out of place hore, for in no department of the game is this so necessary as at half, accuracy with the head as with the foot. It is far too common a sight to see a half-back play a thoroughly sound game up to, say, the interval, and afterwards fall specific side to look after, or, as it is technically away. This, of course, occurs mically termed, to mark. The centre half has the opposing centre forward, while the in first class football it is no unusual sight,

Dutch Advice to Mr Kruger. London, October 26,-Three secret and confidential despatches relating to the Transvaal negotiations prior to the outbreak of war have been published at the

The first despatch shows that Mynheer W. H. de Beaufort, the Netherlands Minister for Foreign Affairs, on May 13, 1899, warned President Kauger of the danger of a violent solution of the South African problem. As a faithful friend, the Dutch Minister gave counsel to President Kruger that the utmost conciliation and moderation in dealing with the questions at issue with Great Britain should be exercised. Mynheer do Beaufort added that the German Government fully concurred in this counsel.

President Kruger replied that he had always been conciliatory, and that he did not desire an outbreak of war, but he was unable, he said, to sacrifice the independence of the Transviol. He further said that he favoured an extension of the sufmen rougining subjects of the British Em- companies will include men of the Coldpire and at the same time receiving the stream, the Grenadier, the Scots, and the right of voting in the Transvaal.

He (the Dutch Minister) was convinced that any appeal by the Transvaal to the Great Powers at such a critical moment would be barren and dangerous to the Republic. To this advice would lead to a very direct interference by 4th Battalion of the Norfolk Regiment, the Great Britain in the internal affairs of the Republic. He did not intend, he said, to appeal to the Great Powers.

Tales of Boor Treachery.

London, Oct. 31 .- Further news regarding the attack on Philippelis states that a telegraphist escaped from the town, tapped the wire outside, and summaned relief. The paster of the Dutch church has been sont away for harbouring the attackers. Nov. 1 .- Details of the assault on Jacobsolal by the Boers show that the inhabitants admitted 40 Boers during the Kolly and Potta state :-night into houses commanding the square where the Capetown Highlanders lay. At daybreak the Boors opened fire on the eight of them who were asleep in a tent, The Highlanders abandoned the square, as they were unable to reach their rifles. His points are, Russia does not want China. which she could not assimilate. Russian policy is against the acquisition of unassimilable populations and that Russia is in no way antagonistic to British India, as indeed most of her Asiatic dominions were in her possession before our Indian empire was even at its birth. The writer is somewhat sareastic, over the stupidity of British statesmanship in China. We proclaim the integrity of China without any intelligent or merely obstinate effort to rossert the primacy of our diplomacy at Peking, or even to maintain its parity with that of Russia. We consecrate the Middle Kingdom to an integrity of putrescence without any more lucid conception than in the of Turkey, that the propping up of a decaying despotism necessitates liberal indulgence of its crime.
